Caryn Lilling, Partner
Mauro Lilling Naparty, LLP

Caryn is a highly regarded Appellate Advocate and Litigation Strategist, and a founding partner of Mauro Lilling Naparty LLP. During the course of her 25 years with the firm, Caryn has handled hundreds of civil appeals in state and federal courts. Her name appears on opinions in a wide variety of practice areas, and she has published extensively on various topics in her field. She is a frequent lecturer for in-house counsel, insurance companies, hospitals and bar associations.

In addition to the more traditional roles of appellate counsel, Caryn chairs the firm's National Damages Mitigation Program. In 2013, Caryn spearheaded the firm's national growth as specialty counsel on damages and, in particular, how to mitigate damages for future medical expenses in tort cases. In that role Caryn has become a leading voice on the topic. Numerous companies, insurance carriers and hospitals now turn to Caryn and her team to develop pre-trial, trial and mediation strategies to mitigate damages in catastrophic injury cases. Caryn also serves as consulting specialty counsel for various insurance carriers in other areas as well, including the defense of mental health care professionals nationwide in connection with cases involving attempted suicide and third-party failure to warn.

Caryn has earned Martindale Hubbell's highest peer review rating of AV®, having been designated as Preeminent™ in Appellate Practice. This distinction is awarded to less than five percent of all United States lawyers. Caryn has also been named as one of the Top Women Attorneys in the New York Metro Area specializing in appellate practice as spotlighted in the New York Times Magazine, and the firm was recognized by the New York Law Journal as the seventh largest women-owned firm in New York State. Caryn is an active member of the Claims and Litigation Management Alliance (CLM), the Defense Research Institute (DRI), and the Federation of Defense and Corporate Counsel (FDCC).

Caryn holds degrees from the University of Michigan and Hofstra University School of Law. She is admitted to practice in all state courts of New York and New Jersey, as well as the Second Circuit court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

Seth M. Weinberg, Partner
Mauro Lilling Naparty, LLP

Seth spent the entirety of his career (over a decade) handling appeals and complex motion practice in state and federal courts. His practice spans multiple areas of law, including medical and other professional malpractice; construction law; insurance coverage disputes; employment law; general negligence; products liability; asbestos; trust and estates; real property disputes; and commercial litigation.

Prior to joining MLN in 2013, Seth was an associate, and ultimately headed, the appeals department for a large Long Island litigation firm. From 2014-2019, Super Lawyers named him a Rising Star as one of the top attorneys in New York under the age of 40. No more than 2.5 percent of the lawyers in the state were selected to the list. He has also served as the co-chairman of the Suffolk County Bar Association's Appellate Practice Committee and given numerous lectures on a wide variety of legal issues. Seth is also a former member of the New York State Bar Association's Committee on Civil Practice Law and Rules (CPLR).

Seth graduated from the State University of New York at Albany, magna cum laude, with a B.A. in political science. He attended Touro College's Jacob D. Fuchsberg Law Center and graduated cum laude.
