Deanna Mirro Altmann, R.N.C. is a MLMIC Risk Management Consultant for the New York metropolitan area. Deanna graduated New York University School of Nursing with a Bachelor of Science degree. In addition, she has a second Bachelor of Science degree in Paralegal Studies with Business Administration from St. John's University. She is certified in In-Patient Obstetrics through The National Certification Corporation.

During her career, she worked as a women's health nurse on ante-partum, labor and delivery, post-partum, newborn nursery units and medical surgical units. She has experience in home care, quality management and performance improvement activities for the adult population. She has worked as a preceptor for a Long Island based home care agency and the nursing program at Farmingdale State College.

As a Legal Nurse Consultant and Paralegal Deanna has experience in regulatory compliance, defense toxic torts, as well as both plaintiff and defense sides of malpractice claims.

Mirsade Markovic has been an associate with the MLMIC Legal Department since 2003. Ms. Markovic specializes in health care law including professional liability issues, risk management and professional medical malpractice defense litigation. This includes representing and defending physicians, dentists, and healthcare professionals in professional malpractice and negligence litigation from claim status through trial and through the appeal process. Her practice also encompasses aspects of premises liability, general liability, and insurance law. Ms. Markovic is on the editorial board of the MLMIC Scope and has authored articles published in the Scope, MLMIC Dateline and MLMIC Dental Dateline.

Mirsade Markovic received her J.D. in 2000 from Hofstra University School of Law and her B.S. in 1996 from St. John's University. She is admitted to practice before the New York State Courts and is a member of the Health Law Section of the New York State Bar Association.

Dr. Josh Hyatt has been in the healthcare risk management and medical ethics field for more than 30 years, holding a variety of roles in the healthcare, insurance, regulatory, and consulting arenas. He is a Harvard Medical School graduate with a Master's in Bioethics and received both a Doctor of Health Science and a Master's in Health Law from Nova Southeastern. He proudly serves as the Editor for the ASHRM Journal, Faculty Lead for the ASHRM CPHRM Prep course, and the 2024-2027 ASHRM Advisory Board of Directors.

Greg Prentiss leads engagements for the Safety and Reliability solutions team in Strategic Consulting, partnering with clients to improve by designing and implementing human error prevention programs, resulting in dramatically reduced safety event rates. Greg has more than 25 years of leadership experience and as an educator and speaker delivering seminars, training programs and lectures on human error prevention, root cause investigation and performance improvement methodologies. Prior to joining Press Ganey, Greg was a former FA-18 pilot in the US Navy, where he recorded more than 2,800 flight hours and 780 carrier-arrested landings, including combat missions over Iraq.